WNS will work with PLS and their Global Price Management (GPM) solutions package to help improve outcomes for freight forwarders and shippers. GPM is the trusted choice of the freight forwarding industry, with five of the top ten global names currently using this advanced solution. PLS' technology helps Shipping and Logistics clients better manage transportation rates, scheduling, forecasts, carrier allocations, end-client quotations and analytical reporting.

"We are delighted to partner with PLS, an industry leader in logistics solutions. We believe that the combination of the GPM's technology and WNS' deep domain expertise in Shipping and Logistics BPM will create opportunities for our clients to drive measurable business value," said Keshav R. Murugesh, Group CEO, WNS.

Henning Voss, Co-founder and CEO of PLS, adds: "GPM is the 'go-to' software solution for the logistics industry. We retain that position through a process of constant development, evolution and improvement – ensuring that we keep pace with this dynamic business sector and satisfy the needs of our global customer base. WNS will help us stay at the cutting edge, ensuring that our service is as up to date and comprehensive as possible, so we can deliver real competitive advantages for our users."

WNS serves clients in many segments of freight and logistics, including ocean, freight forwarders and non-vessel owning common carriers (NVOCC), air express, road (trucking), rail, and third-party logistics (3PL) firms.
